Congratulations to our 2015 Baughman Dissertation Research Award winners, Ryan Jacoby and Patrick Powell! The purpose of this award is to promote and support innovative dissertation research in our department.

Ryan’s research aims to better understand optimal ways to deliver exposure-based therapy for obsessions. Patrick’s research examines age-related changes in cognitive functioning as individuals with Autism Spectrum Disorder enter middle and late adulthood.

Steve Reznick was tapped into the Order of the Golden Fleece at a public tapping ceremony on Friday, March 20. The Order of the Golden Fleece, now in its 111th year, is the oldest honorary society on campus. Approximately 25-30 undergraduates, graduate students, and distinguished faculty and staff are selected annually and are recognized for making extraordinary contributions to the quality of life at the university.

Dr. Reznick was tapped for his role in developing a cutting-edge autism screening tool and his breadth of involvement at UNC Chapel Hill. Dr. Reznick contributed his expertise in test development to the Program on Early Autism Research, Leadership, and Service (PEARLS) to help screen infants for autism as early as 12 months of age. Outside of his teaching and research, Dr. Reznick is an outstanding mentor and contributed to dozens of university committees.
Commencement 2015

The UNC Psychology Department’s Undergraduate Commencement Ceremony will be held in Carmichael Arena at 1:00 pm on Sunday, May 10, 2015.

Academic regalia is encouraged for this event, but certainly not required. Regalia can be purchased in-store at UNC Student Stores April 27—May 10. The ceremony is open to the public and will last approximately 1.5 hours.

Please arrive at Carmichael Arena no later than 12:30 pm and allow plenty of time for travel as the area will be heavily congested. (The main ceremony in Kenan Stadium ends at 11 am the same day.) Faculty and staff may park at the Cobb Deck or Bell Tower Deck. The Bell Tower deck will require a valid weekday BTD permit. Disability parking is available in the School of Government Deck after 11 am.

Please make a note of this event on your calendar as we strongly encourage you to attend Commencement. Students and their families are greatly appreciative of the presence and participation of faculty and student mentors. RSVPs may be sent to Tamsen Foote.

Faculty Research Spotlight: Sara Algoe

To the same extent that smoking can shorten a life, being embedded in high quality social relationships can prolong a life. Dr. Sara Algoe, an Assistant Professor in the Social Psychology program, conducts research to understand the foundational building blocks of high-quality relationships that make this statement true.

For example, she recently wrapped up two years of grant-funded experiments to test hypotheses about the role of expressed gratitude in romantic relationships. For these studies, more than 250 local couples came to Dr. Algoe’s lab to participate together in video-recorded conversations, provide biological measures (e.g., for blood pressure and oxytocin), and many even completed nightly questionnaires for five weeks.

In February 2015, she received a $1 million grant from the John Templeton Foundation to move her research into the workplace. Social interactions with co-workers, supervisors, and employees can have significant influence on productivity and health.

Through lab experiments and field studies in organizations, Dr. Algoe and her team hope to identify concrete and easy-to-implement behavioral changes that can significantly benefit individuals as well as society.

A reminder for our Full, Associate, and Assistant Professors: our departmental merit review process is taking place this summer! Send 3 PDFs to Pat Neville:

- Current CV
- Research, Teaching, and Service Statements in one file
- Recent Teaching Evaluations

Your merit review reports are due by May 18, 2015.

A committee of six faculty members will independently evaluate and rate each faculty member. Based on ratings, the Chair may assign merit pay raises (if applicable) and advise faculty regarding their performance.

Welcome to Kim Brennan, Psychology’s new temporary Accounting Assistant! Kim will provide general processing and administrative support to the rest of the Accounting staff. Recently, Kim and her husband became empty nesters as their two grown sons (both UNC Chapel Hill graduates—2011 and 2014!) moved out on their own, leaving behind a very spoiled miniature Schnauzer. Kim and her husband enjoy attending sports events and travelling.

Rachael Farrell also joined the Department of Psychology as our new Gil Internship Manager. Rachael graduated from Stetson University with her MBA in December and moved to North Carolina from Florida in March. She and her fiancé, Benjamin, are celebrating their recent engagement and look forward to getting married this summer. Welcome, Rachael!

Congratulations to Jen Youngstrom who received the 2015 David Galinsky Award. This honor is awarded annually to a Clinical Psychology faculty member who offers outstanding mentorship. Dr. Youngstrom was chosen as this year’s winner by the 2015 Senior Internship class.

Carrie Adair, a Social Psychology graduate student, was awarded the Graduate School’s 2015-16 Dissertation Completion Fellowship. This fellowship supports doctoral students in their final year of their dissertation by providing a stipend, tuition, and health insurance for one year.

Jessica Solis, a Clinical Psychology graduate student, was awarded a Dissertation Award from the UNC Initiative for Minority Excellence (IME). IME seeks to recognize students that contribute significantly to the enhancement, support, and furtherance of diversity on UNC’s campus and in the community.

Arun Nagendra, a Clinical Psychology Graduate Student, was awarded a 2015 Summer Graduate Research Grant from the UNC Institute of African-American Research. This grant is awarded to students working on projects concerning African-Americans or the African diaspora.
