8 of our Psychology and Neuroscience Honors undergraduates are recipients of the 2017 David Bray Peele Award. The Peele Award honors David Bray Peele, who received his Bachelor’s degree in Psychology from the Department in May 1975 and worked with Dr. Mark Waller on his Honor’s Thesis. He completed his graduate work at the American University in Washington. Dr. Peele passed away suddenly in 1990. After his death, his family remembered how his Honors work at UNC Chapel Hill had opened so many opportunities for him and decided to establish a fund that would bear his name. The Peele Award supports our undergraduate students in psychology and their Honors Projects.

This year’s recipients are Emmie Banks, Adrienne Bonar, Yumei Chen, Cassidy Fry, Heather Ortega, Sarah Palasick, Logan Smit, and Lynde Wangler—congratulations to all students!

Dr. Steve Buzinski, a Teaching Assistant Professor in Psychology and Neuroscience, has been named the first UNC Center for Faculty Excellence Faculty-in-Residence. The CFE has launched a new initiative, a faculty-in-residence program designed to support select faculty interests related to faculty development. As the first Faculty-in-Residence, Dr. Buzinski is working on the development and implementation of programming related to the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL). SoTL is a systematic, evidence-based approach to improve teaching and learning. With proper planning, UNC faculty members who take steps to improve student learning can collect data to help gauge the effectiveness of the changes they are making. In addition to providing useful feedback on teaching methods, such findings are also being used as a foundation for published articles, conference presentations, and to help bolster professional vitae.
Jennifer MacCormack, a graduate student in Social Psychology, received a Ruth L. Kirschstein National Research Service Award (NRSA) Individual Predoctoral Fellowship from the National Institute on Aging. The purpose of the Kirschstein NRSA Pre-doctoral Fellowship Award is to enable promising Predoctoral students to obtain individualized, mentored research training from outstanding faculty sponsors while conducting dissertation research in scientific health-related fields. Research training is expected to enhance the individual’s potential to develop into a productive, independent research scientist. Under this fellowship, Jennifer will investigate how younger vs. older adults’ brains represent autonomic nervous system activity and interoception and, in turn, what these neural age differences could mean for emotional aging. Ultimate this work can offer crucial insights into aging mental health and well-being, delineating further biological pathways in the body and brain by which emotions change across the lifespan.

5 Psychology and Neuroscience graduate students are the recipients of the 2017-18 Dashiell Dissertation Startup Awards. The Dashiell Dissertation Startup Award honors John Frederick Dashiell, founder of the Department of Psychology and Neuroscience, and is intended to support scientific work by assisting with research expenses. Congratulations to Yen-Ping Chang (Social Psychology), Maleeha Haroon (Clinical Psychology), Ethan McCormick (Developmental Psychology), Kimberly Pentel (Clinical Psychology), and Lillian Reuman (Clinical Psychology)!

Chelsea Ewing joined our team as our new Clinical Psychology Program Coordinator. She earned her Bachelor’s degree in Communication Studies from Longwood University. Chelsea recently moved to the area from Blacksburg, Virginia, where she worked at Virginia Tech. When she is not working, she is traveling with her husband, playing with her dog, and trying out new recipes. Welcome to Chelsea, our newest Tar Heel!

Reznick Grant for PSYC Majors

The J. Steven Reznick Diversity and Psychological Research Grant is now available to undergraduate Psychology majors! Please encourage your students to apply. Fostering diversity in research is a primary goal of the Department of Psychology and Neuroscience. The Reznick Research Grant will support students from underrepresented backgrounds or those who are interested in conducting research with, or applicable to, populations traditionally underrepresented in research. This grant will be awarded to a single recipient in the amount of $4,000 to use in the Spring 2018 semester. Funds may be used to offset the need for part-time work, to cover the costs of carrying out research, or to attend a professional conference.

Applications should be completed online and are due November 15. Students can visit our website to learn more about how to apply, frequently asked questions, and to learn more about the award.

CDS Consortium Series

- Each semester, the faculty and fellows of the Center for Developmental Science gather for a weekly consortium series organized around a theme and guiding questions. The Fall 2017 consortium series will be held on Mondays from 2—3:15 PM!

- October 30
  Gabriela Stein, Ph.D.
  UNC Greensboro
  “Intersection of Ethnic/Racial Socialization and Adolescence”

- November 6
  Michaeline Jensen, Ph.D.
  UNC Chapel Hill
  “Parenting Adolescents in the Digital Age”

- November 13
  Jennifer Lansford, Ph.D.
  Duke University
  “Parental Warmth and Control in Diverse International Contexts”

- November 27
  Tiffany Taylor Smith, Ph.D.
  Cultural Learning Partners

- December 4
  Laurie Chassin, Ph.D.
  Arizona State University
  “Parenting in the Context of Parental Substance Use Disorder”

---

Note: The text appears to be a schedule of events and lectures related to various topics in psychology and neuroscience. Each entry includes the date, speaker, and location. The CDS Consortium Series is described as a regular gathering of the Center for Developmental Science faculty and fellows, organized around a theme and guiding questions. The Fall 2017 consortium series is scheduled for Mondays from 2—3:15 PM. The events cover a range of topics, including cognitive tea talks, quantitative forums, clinical and developmental lunch series, and social organizations, all taking place at various locations within the university campus.
