Dr. Mitch Prinstein, a John Van Seters Distinguished Professor of Clinical Psychology, and his book, Popular: The Power of Likability in a Status-Obsessed World, were chosen for the 2018 Carolina Summer Reading Program.

The Carolina Summer Reading Program selects books annually that are intellectually stimulating, provoke interesting discussions, and address a theme or topic that is applicable to undergraduate students. Incoming UNC students will read the book over the summer and have found the Summer Reading Program to be an excellent introduction to academic life at Carolina. Past book selections have included How Does it Feel to Be a Problem? (2017), Being Mortal (2016), Just Mercy (2015), The Round House (2014), Home (2013), and The Shallows (2012).

Chelsea Schein, a graduate student in Social Psychology, is the 2018 recipient of the Society for Personality and Social Psychology’s Heritage Dissertation Research Award. These awards are intended to provide assistance with the costs of conducting dissertation research in social and personality psychology. Chelsea received the Heritage Dissertation Research Award for her project, “Beyond Nasty Women and Deplorables: Bridging Political Divides by Focusing on the Common Denominator of Harm.”

Ronald Kim, a graduate student in Behavioral and Integrative Neuroscience, is the recipient of a 2018 National Institutes of Health F31 Predoctoral Fellowship. Ron received a total award of over $70,000 for his project, “The Role of Nucleus Accumbens GLT-1 Expression in the Cellular and Molecular Adaptations that Underlie Cocaine Seeking.”
11 of our Psychology and Neuroscience undergraduates are Spring 2018 initiates of the Alpha of North Carolina Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Phi Beta Kappa is one of the oldest and most distinguished of all collegiate honorary societies. Membership is a recognition of academic excellence achieved during the completion of a liberal arts and sciences undergraduate education. Congratulations to Spring 2018 inductees: Emily Banks, Adrienne Bonar, Kyra DeKoning, Abigail Needell, Jacob Pascual, Grace Porter, Rachel Silver, Mary Smith, Catherine Sullivan, Nicholas Teague, and Christina West!

Dr. Donald Baucom, a Richard Lee Simpson Distinguished Professor of Clinical Psychology, and Dr. Melanie Fischer, a Postdoctoral Fellow in Clinical Psychology, are the recipients of a National Institute of Mental Health R03 Grant. Dr. Baucom and Dr. Fisher received a total award of over $155,000 over two years for their project, “Social Processes in Research Domain Criteria (RDoC): Function and Dysfunction of Interpersonal Emotion Regulation in Depression and Anxiety.”

Henry Willis, a graduate student in Clinical Psychology, is the 2018 recipient of the UNC Institute of African American Research (IAAR) Graduate Student Summer Research Grant. Graduate Student Summer Research Grants provide funding to masters, pre-doctoral, and professional graduate students in any discipline who are conducting research. Students’ research projects must concern African Americans or the broader African diaspora and have clear relevance to IAAR’s mission. All award recipients will present results and progress in their projects through IAAR’s Graduate Student Brown Bag Lecture Series.

Dr. Steve Buzinski, a Teaching Assistant Professor, is the recipient of the UNC Center for Faculty Excellence’s Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL) Presentation Grant. The Center for Faculty Excellent supports the growing number of faculty members interested in sharing the results of their work in the classroom, representing the movement known as SoTL. This work is based on methodologies that offer some evidence about the impact of the intervention on student learning experiences and outcomes. The Center for Faculty Excellence offers a small grants program to support faculty members who wish to publish on the results of changes they have made to their teaching or to present their findings at local, national, or international conferences.

Dr. Buzinski received a presentation grant to defray costs associated with conference preparation and travel. He will present “Just Talk to Your Neighbor: How our Socially Anxious Students Perceive Active Learning Classrooms” at the Society for Personality and Social Psychology National Conference in March 2018 in Atlanta, Georgia.

Dr. Eva Telzer, an Assistant Professor of Developmental Psychology, is the recipient of the 2018 Early Career Award from the Society for Research on Adolescence. This Early Career Award recognizes a young scholar whose research, publications, grants, conference presentations, and visibility in the field represent a significant contribution to understanding adolescent development and behavior. Dr. Telzer will receive this award at the 2018 Society for Research on Adolescence’s Biennial Meeting, April 2018, in Minneapolis, Minnesota.
The Department of Psychology and Neuroscience is glad to announce that Dr. John G. Holmes is this year’s distinguished alumnus award winner.

Dr. Holmes will present “The Structure of Interdependence Shapes Cognition in Relationships” on Wednesday, April 18 at 3:30 PM in Howell 205.

Dr. Holmes earned his B.A. and M.A. at Carleton University and his Ph.D. in Social Psychology at UNC Chapel Hill in 1971. He co-authored a book on interdependence with Dr. Hal Kelley and other leading relationship researchers.

He is a gifted theoretician and researcher in the area of understanding attribution and inference processes in close relationships. Dr. Holmes is a Distinguished Professor Emeritus of the Department of Psychology at the University of Waterloo.
