

PSYCHOLOGY MAJORS: STUDY IN SOUTH KOREA

Open to all majors!

Earn psychology major/minor credit while exploring Seoul this summer!

"The courses were absolutely wonderful, and the program went to great lengths to ensure students would be cared for and would have plenty to do. I absolutely loved how the professors worked with students to ensure maximum learning while also allowing both parties to maximize their fun abroad!"

- Rachael K, Summer 2015

OVERVIEW:

Korea University's International Summer Campus (ISC) is an excellent opportunity for Carolina students to live and learn in South Korea with students and faculty from Carolina and all over the world. International students, along with local students, take 2-3 courses from a wide variety of offerings, all taught in English. Optional Korean language courses are available, but no Korean language background is required. Classes are held Monday-Thursday, and an array of cultural activities and excursions take place on Fridays.

COURSES:

This program is highly recommended for Carolina students seeking psychology credit, although all majors can apply! Participants are free to choose from the full ISC course catalog (visit <http://isc.korea.ac.kr/all/src/program/course.php>), but many of ISC's psychology courses have been pre-approved:
